A couple of years ago a man in Indiana was found to have thousands of human remains and an array of museum-worthy artifacts from around the world in his basement. That is a bunch of bones and artifacts! The guy was 90-years-old at the time. Is (was) he a very active grave robber or a real community-minded collector? The feds loaded up a bunch of the artifacts and returned them to their country, or Indian tribe, of origin. Many of the human bones were identified as American Indian and even the tribe determined. Our Family Serving Your Family Since 1934 s it okay to distribute cremated remains among family memb These days, it is common for people to opt for cremation following death After a loved one is cremated, family members may wonder what they should do with their loved one's ashes. Some families may opt to scatter the ashes or keep them in a single urn in a specific location such as a cemetery niche. However, it is also possible to distribute the ashes among different people and places. Keepsake urns or jewelry are a popular option for many families. Keepsake urns are smaller urns that hold a portion of the deceased's ashes. This idea is that the ashes can be divided up among family members who live in different places. Another option is to place some ashes in a piece of keepsake jewelry such as a pendant. You can even distribute some of the ashes among different family members and then keep the remainder of the ashes in a cemetery. This way, everyone is able to keep their loved one close, but it also allows families to have a specific place to visit to remember and honor their loved one.

In some cases, people may wonder if it is acceptable to distribute ashes this way. With the exception of a view few religious sects, this distribution of ashes is just fine. Some religions have definite views against cremation Generally speaking, if a religion allows for cremation it is also acceptable to store them in a single container, distribute them or scatter them.

The law as well doesn't have much to say on the topic. Unless there is a large family dispute over how the ashes should be stored or dispersed that must be settled in court, the law allows for families to do as they choose. The most important thing to consider in these circumstances is the wishes of the deceased. Whenever possible, try to follow the wishes of your loved one. And if possible, let your own family know your wishes so they can fee comfortable making the decision when the time comes.

Do you know how to fail successfully?

2667 Hickman Avenue, Elba, Alabama

I like quotes. In fact I like quotes so much that I collect them. Here's one of my favorites:

"Ever tried? Ever failed? No matter. Try again. Fail again. Fail better." -- Samuel Beckett Beckett's words ring true to me and are inspiring. The reason? I'm good at failing. In fact, it's what I do best! So, if you're like me, anything that encourages me to not give in to failures or to let them define me is always a welcome guest.

Someone once told me that I am greater than all my failures...and so are you! But at times it's hard to believe that, isn't it? We all want to be successful...but failure seems, well...so unsuccessful.

I don't know about your experience of college or grad school (if you went!), but in my over two hundred credit hours of formal course work, I didn't have a single credit hour on how to fail successfully.

What do you do when things don't go as planned or work out the way you had hoped?

I sure could have used a class on that.

I've learned a lot about failure and success in my 65 years now of living. I would even say that failure has been one of my best teachers.

Here's the truth: Everyone experiences failures along life's way. No one is exempt!

The most important thing is to get up and keep going. To not quit. To not let fear hold you back from trying again. And again. And again. And for as long as is necessary. It is in refusing to quit that one usually finds success. That, I think, is what Beckett is getting at.

So learn to embrace failure as a companion to your success. As Seth Godin has written, "...both are essential elements in forward motion....

way to move forward in life that I have ever read. He have it made. But I am well on my way, reaching out for McCart (1); Offensive Player of the Week was Alvin Christ, who has so wondrously reached out for me.. By Henderson (6); and Special Teams Player of the Week was no means do I count myself an expert.. but I've got me eye Carson Wise (3). The Tigers have an 'off week' this week, on the goal, where God is beckoning us onward-to Jesus. but will return to the field of play on Friday, Nov. 5, when I'm off and running. So let's keep focused on that goal" Elba hosts a first round playoff game. (Philippians 3:12-14, MSG).

Personally, I'd choose moving forward any day to being stuck somewhere I really don't want to be. What about you? Stuck? Or pressing on toward the goal?

The Tigers fell behind early and then turned the ball over on their initial possession, but got the ball back on an interception and from then on never lost command in the important region win. Elba's running game clicked on all cylinders in the win with two players rushing for over 100 yards and a third rushing for 80 yards. I guess the Tigers were balanced on offense since they ran to the right, to the 42-6 and Red Level rallied past Pleasant Home 33-22. left and up the middle! The regular season finale looked like a 'trap game' all week long after the big win over Ariton and the fact the game was rescheduled for a Thursday night kickoff. However, the Tigers got the job done as they chalked up win #9 on the season and can sit back and watch as the playoff picture becomes more clear.

 Kinston continued its amazing season and broke a couple of all-time records in upsetting Samson 21-20, in overtime. The win set a new record for wins in a season with seven, and also gave the Bulldogs the home field advantage in the playoffs for the first time ever. The next record the Bulldogs will be looking to break will be their 14-game playoff losing streak. While the 7-3 record may not get much attention anywhere but Kinston, two of the losses were to top-ranked (8-0) Brantley and 3A Houston Academy, which owns a 6-3 record and has already wrapped up a post-season berth. Another scary thing for the Gamecock fans is that three of the four wins were over teams that didn't win a game. It might be an with a road trip to 1A Pleasant Home. interesting off-season!

 Zion Chapel never had a chance against highpowered Geneva County and despite scoring four touchdowns for the second straight week remained winless with a 55-28 homefield loss. The Elba Tigers put an exclamation mark on their 'bounce back' season as they claimed their ninth victory of the regular season for the first time in five years with a solid 40-12 region road win over the Houston County Houston County received the opening kickoff and surprised the Tigers as they went 73 yards in six plays to grab an early lead. Kahleel Johnson rushed for 35 yards on one carry and completed four of five passes for 30 yards to spark the long scoring drive, with the touchdown coming on a 27-yard pass to Ladarius Maybin. A two-point pass missed its target, but with 9:23 remaining in the first quarter the Lions were already on top 6-0.

Elba lost a fumble on its second play of the game to put Houston County back in business near midfield, but a it took Elba five plays to take the lead.

Alvin Henderson rushed for 16 yards on two carries to get the drive started, while JT Coleman rushed for 30 yards on three carries and capped the drive with a 3-yard touchdown run. Alex Wisecup kicked the extra point as the Tigers moved ahead 7-6 with 6:36 left in the quarter.

Elba began its next offensive series at its own 27-yardline after a Lions punt and once again it took the Tigers five plays to each the endzone. Twenty-eight yards in penalties against Houston County aided the long scoring march, while Brayden Johnson kept the ball on the final two plays touchdown. The extra point attempt failed, but with 2:55 and one td. left in the quarter Elba was on top 13-6.

Elba began its next possession at the Houston County 34-yardline after a partially blocked punt and this time it took the Tigers four plays to reach paydirt. Alvin Henderson rushed for 29 yards on just two carries and scored the touchdown on an 18-yard dash, and Wisecup booted the extra point as the Tigers lead grew to 20-6 with 9:18 left in the second quarter.

Elba regained possession at its own 24-yardline after Peyton McCart's second interception of the half, and from there it took the Tigers four plays to cash in the turnover. JT Coleman scored his second touchdown of the night on a 39-yard scamper, and when Alex Wisecup kicked the extra point the Tigers were on top 27-6 with 5:04 remaining in the half.

The Tigers got the ball right back on an on-sides kick and appeared to add to their lead on a 31-yard run by Chrystyile Caldwell. However, a penalty flag wiped the points off the scoreboard, and at halftime the Tigers owned a 27-6 advantage.

Elba received the second half kickoff and went 48 yards in four plays to stretch its lead. A 30-yard run by Byron Burks sparked the scoring drive, while the touchdown came on a 15-yard run around the right side by Brayden Johnson. Alex Wisecup added the extra point, and with 10:33 left in the third quarter the Tigers were in command with a 34-6 lead.

A twopoint run failed, and with 2:06 left on the clock the Tigers lead stood at 40-12.

Elba had a touchdown run nullified by a penalty flag on the game's final play, but it made little difference anywhere but the scoreboard as the Tigers claimed the 40-12 road win.
